NGO lays down the path to forest conservation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE Chennai
An event arranged by Trichy-based environmental group Thinner, a trekking-cum-forest induction programme at Pachamalai in Trichy for students of MAMBS School and MAM College of Engineering and Technology was recently organised. The one-day programme saw the participation of 40 students from both institutions' MBA programmes as they visited Pachamalai forest range in the district. Forest officers took the students on a 4 km trek and sensitised them to the importance of forest conservation.

Thinner secretary KC Nedumagan said, "The primary goal was to give the students a forest experience, thereby encouraging them to strive towards conserving forests and the environment." Forest officers spoke about the flora and fauna at Pachamalai and their peculiar characteristics. The

MBA students pay visit to Patchamalai

TASS News Network

Trichy: Visiting Patchamalai was a refreshing experience for 40 MBA students from colleges in Trichy. Among them, many were visiting Patchamalai for the first time.

Students from MAM Business School and MAM College of Engineering and Technology, Trichy were on a field visit to Patchamalai on Saturday. Accompanied by members of Thanneer, a city-based voluntary organisation, they learned livelihood opportunities of people in the hill station.

While greenery is maintained through the year, Patchamalai forest, which is about 90 km from Trichy city, attracts large butterfly population making it an ideal place for trekking expedition.

Being the only place in Trichy district having scope for trekking, Patchamalai has been hosting nature enthusiasts. Top Sengattapatti in Patchamalai is developed as an eco-tourism destination where people from the local tribal community, tree top houses and a couple of dormitories to host nature enthusiasts.

Finding drinking water in the hill station much tastier than what is available in Trichy city, S Najma, a member from MAM B School who accompanied the students, said that it was a refreshing experience away from city life.

"We found agriculture being the primary occupation of people living in the hillock where Tapioca is widely cultivated. However, it was unusual for us to find some people also cultivating paddy," said Praveen S, a first year student of MAM B School.

Secretary, Thanneer, K C Neelamagam said that students were made to throw about 150 seed balls around Mangalam waterfalls. "They also joined us in collecting plastic waste left behind by tourists. They were sensitized on not littering forests by explaining its ill effects," said Neelamagam.

A city-based NGO organised a nature walk and awareness drive for college students to Patchamalai, to encourage the importance of environmental conservation. The students also bring seed balls while on the tour.

Speaking to The Hindu, K. Neelamagam, Secretary, Thanneer, said that the idea to take college students on these tours began a few years ago. "We organise outreach programmes in colleges in the city. As part of it, we decided to show them that within Tiruchi itself, there is a forest area and there are beautiful waterbodies which need to be conserved," he said.

As part of this initiative, about 40 students from M.A.M College of Engineering travelled to Patchamalai Hills about 90 km from Tiruchy. The students undertook a 4-km long trek through the hills guided by volunteers of Thanneer on Friday.

"This has been an important part of our Thanneer environmental clubs in colleges. We want the students to see our rich and varied habitat and urge them to protect it. Just teaching them in schools and colleges is not enough. They need to see what could possibly be lost through human activity," Mr. Neelamagam said. "The students picked up plastic waste as they went on the trek. We appeal to the public to not pollute the natural habitat," he said.

The students studied the habitat, the plants and trees and the fruits they bear and the sources of water in the hills. They also bring seed balls around the Mangalam waterfalls. Tourists, especially youth from Tiruchi are polluting the area, they said.

This includes not aware on safeguarding the environment due to lack of environmental education, non follow up of proper rules and regulations that results in detrimental effects to society as a whole. The team also pinpointed that many communicable diseases are also by uneducated people due to non compliance of precautionary measures and actions especially that had during COVID pandemic periods. After carefully observed all the inputs from both respective teams, the judge announced that the educators are the main people who degrading the environment and because of them only the environment is getting polluted. Outcomes of Marathon

Many students do not have the constant opportunity to go to the gym and play sports games. This is fundamentally wrong because an exhausted and untrained body cannot withstand diseases and prolonged stress in college or university. That is why you should take care of your health and try at least minimal physical activity.

Just as physical health is important, so is mental health. Most college students are under the constant pressure of rigorous curricula, high academic load, complex assignments, and tight deadlines, which leads to high levels of stress. To avoid burnout, students can and should turn for help with their homework to writing services like Essay Service and let professional paper writers take care of their assignments. With more free time available, students can dedicate it to physical activity and improve their health.

Running is one of the best sports activities for students. First of all, it is available to everyone and absolutely free. You don't have to spend hours on gruelling marathons. It is enough to start 10 minutes each day and gradually increase this time interval. Only then you can feel stronger, healthier, and improve your academic performance. Here are ten amazing benefits of running for students.

8	Description of the event	M.A.M.B-School Student Association Club in association with Student Junior Jaycee wing Club organized session on entitled: "Professional Ethics and human values" on 30 November 2022 at M.A.M business school. Mrs.R.Indhumathi, Executive Director-(SCOPE) Trichy was the resource person for this programme. Dr. M.Hemalatha, Director, M.A.M.B-School welcomed the gathering and gave a short note about Professional ethics and Human values as Human values and professional ethics are complementary to each other. Whereas human values convey personal conviction, ethics describe the accepted principles and standards of conduct about moral duties and virtues as applied to an organization. She also opined that the success of an institution's mission and vision is driven by value-based ethical behaviour of its committed faculty members, officers, staff and students. She also listed some of the vital components of professional ethics such as Integrity, Trusteeship, Harmony, Accountability, Commitment, Respectfulness and sustainability. She also said that Human values and professional ethics are complementary to each other and Values tell us what we want to do or achieve in our life, whereas ethics helps us in deciding what is morally correct or incorrect.

9	Outcomes of the event	The students realized the essence of understanding the attitudes, motivation and behaviours and influences our perception of the world around us. She further explained that Professional ethics are principles that govern the behaviour of a person or group in a business environment. Like values, professional ethics provide rules on how a person should act towards other people and institutions in such an environment. She also pinpointed the main objectives of promotion of Ethics and Human Values are to create awareness, conviction & commitment to values for improving the quality of life through education, and for advancing social and human well being. She also mentioned some principles of professional ethics are beneficence, non-maleficence, autonomy, justice; truth-telling and promise-keeping.
